Relevance of the Program:-

Our society has 50:50 human genders. Both folks are equal partners in our lives' journey and in the progress of civilization. Societal and economic developments are the keys to our peaceful co-existence and progress. Women considered for pretty long time as weaker sex, even now at many places, were not treated at par in strength and in mind set. They were deprived of equal opportunities to grow and prosper. Of late, and in the present day time, women have broken many glass ceilings to achieve in the long unexplored areas of aviation, defence, mountaineering and other sporting arena. They have shown their prominence in the government as well as in the corporate world, nationally and internationally. What drives them to come to the fore front and take over the positions and responsibilities are the focus areas to deliberate on. The nation gave a boost to this thought by providing 33% reservation to women in Lok Sabha. In insurance industry too they have proved their mettle in various capacities. Scope and opportunities have no limit. Women Leadership, no Gender Bias!!
